

compromise, n. The result of two opponents lacking will concerned, adj. Terrified congress, n. 1. The act of coming together 2. A meeting of hostile participants United States Congress, n. Body of wealthy citizens assigned to make laws for ordinary citizens without actually having to meet any

Congressional Record, n. Publication containing all business conducted on the floor of Congress, thereby a detailed account of half the story connecting the dots, n. Process of relating random, insignificant facts in order to incriminate consensus, n. Agreement by all members of a group brought about by pressure applied to dissenters conservative, adj. Desiring change conservative, n. One concerned with (a) what has worked in the past and (b) who is not working in the present conspiracy theorist, n. Skeptic about whose ideas there is much skepticism. Some conspiracy theorists claim that Neil Armstrong did not walk on the moon, that the event was actually staged by Lee Harvey Oswald, although he did not act alone, in order to cover up the murder of Marilyn Monroe committed to stop the release of information about FDR's complicity in the attack on Pearl Harbor. Others rely upon imagination.

constituent, n. Resident in a politician's district with whom he makes contact just prior to elections